Sun, 06 Jan 2019 20:18:00 GMT cogs caravels and galleons the pdf - A cog is a type of ship that first appeared in the 10th century, and was widely used from around the 12th century on. Cogs were clinker-built, generally of oak, which was an abundant timber in the Baltic region of Prussia. This vessel was fitted with a single mast and a square-rigged single sail. These vessels were mostly associated with seagoing trade in medieval Europe, especially the ... Mon, 07 Jan 2019 05:29:00 GMT Cog (ship) - Wikipedia - Cogs were single-masted vessels, clinker-built with steep sides and a flat bottom . Although the name cog is recorded as early as the 9th century, the seagoing vessel of that name seems to have evolved on the Frisian coast during the 12th century. Cogs progressively replaced Viking-type ships in Northern waters during the 13th century. Wed, 09 Jan 2019 23:06:00 GMT Medieval ships - Wikipedia - D'ès le III e millénaire av. J.-C., les Égyptiens utilisaient des voiliers, comme l'attestent les gravures sur un bracelet égyptien trouvés dans les tombes pharaoniques de Qustul (Nubie, vers 3100 av. J.-C.) : y sont représentés, trois bateaux navigant à la voile [4]. Ces bateaux à voile (et à rames) étaient utilisés notamment pour se déplacer le long du
